Ohio University News

Jack Matthews, Professor of English at Ohio University-Athens, will speak at the Southern Ohio Museum and Cultural Center, 825 Gallia Street, on Thursday, January 15, at 5:00 p.m. His lecture will focus on the myths of the American West and the reality revealed in literature and art. The impetus for his address comes from the exhibit "Six Guns and Tomahawks," mounted December 6 thru February 20 at the Museum. Both the exhibit and lecture encourage participants to consider contrasts between the myths about "cowboys and indians" and the reality of those two cultures. The public is cordially invited to attend. There is no admission fee.

YCC Applications Available

If you do not turn 19 years old until after August 30, 1981, you are eligible for the summer Youth Conservation Corps program. Youth, 15 to 18 years old, spend four weeks doing conservation work at natural resource facilities around Ohio. For more information and an application, contact Dave Todt in office 430 in Massie Hall.
